(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Berlin, Nov. 10.—The Austro-German forces which are invading northern Italy have reached the Piave river. Asiago has been captured.

The Piave river has been reached all the way from Susegana to the Adriatic.

ENEMY IS CHECKED.
(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Rome, Nov. 10.—The enemy has been checked in the Ledro valley, the war office announced. A hostile thrust at Brenon, in the Tesino basin, also has been checked. From Susegana to the sea the Italian rear guards, disengaging themselves from the enemy, crossed the Piave river, blowing up bridges.

The Italian rear guard force which had been surrounded at Lorenzago, succeeded in forcing its way out.

TURKS STILL ON RUN.
(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
London, Nov. 10.—The British army in Palestine pursuing the defeated Turks, has made further extensive gains, the war office announced. Askalon has been occupied.

The Turkish casualties exclusive of prisoners are ten thousand. The number of guns captured has been increased to more than seventy.

FRENCH REPULSE ATTACK.
(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Paris, Nov. 10.—German troops undertook a series of advances last night against French positions northwest of Rheims, says today's official report. They were repulsed by the French.

BRITISH FRONT IN BELGIUM.
(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
The British troops which attacked this morning in the Passchendaele area were reported at an early hour to have battled their way forward as much as 800 yards at some points. Today's operations were carried out on a 2500 yard front for limited objectives, which had been virtually all gained by 10 o'clock.

The British passed many strongly fortified farms north and northwest of Goeborg. At this point they were fighting nearly half a mile from their jumping off place.

The line was pushed northward along the Passchendaele ridge almost to the point at which the highest crest starts sloping downward.

REACH RIVER PAIVE.
(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
New York, Nov. 10.—Along a 45 mile stretch of the Piave river in northwestern Italy, the armies of the Austro-German invaders and the Italian defenders are lined up on opposite sides of the stream.

But although the Piave line on the lower course of the river thus has (Continued on Page 2, Col. 3.)

CONFESION ENDS TWO YEARS HUNT FOR THIEF

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Wooner, O., Nov. 10.—William Arnold, 19, of Orrville, confessed today that he stole $7,000 from the Adams express company at Orrville, Ohio, on July 14, 1915, according to Chief of Police Henry Leiner.

Express company detectives have been searching for two years for the person who stole a package containing $7,000 in currency from the Orrville railroad station.

Arnold and a number of other Orrville men were arrested yesterday charged with rifling a railroad car. Arnold was an employee at the railroad station at the time of the robbery.

WESTERN ROADS TO PUT CLAIM UP TO THE COMMISSION

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Washington, Nov. 10.—Western railroads in their application for higher freight rates to be made to the interstate commerce commission Dec. 17, probably will enter the general fifteen per cent. rate case now pending before the commission for eastern roads, without specifying a definite increase in their petition, it was said today.

The commission then will be in a position to declare precisely what rate, if any, is just to meet the increase in cost of labor, supplies and materials.

In preparation for the western roads application the interstate commerce commission experts were busy today tabulating available figures on revenues and operating expenses of those roads for submission to the commission.

AGENT FOR "DOPE" THIEVES IS WANTED FOR HOTEL MURDER

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Cleveland, Nov. 10.—A warrant charging "John Doe" with the murder of Dr. Harry L. Chapin was issued today, following the police verdict that Chapin lost his life as the result of premeditated murder, with robbery as an after-thought.

Dr. Chapin, well-known Cleveland physician, author-poet and traveler, was found last Thursday afternoon in a downtown hotel room, lying on a fractured skull and died a few hours later. A window was broken, and with which Dr. Chapin's skull is believed to have been crushed, was found late yesterday in an alley back of the hotel.

A careful check of the victim's effects showed that a diamond ring, diamond stud, and two watches, valued at $4000, had been stolen.

Police now believe that the victim was lured to the hotel by means of a decoy package which was supposed to contain a narcotic.

A former Cleveland man, with whom Chapin is known to have had dealings, is being sought by the police.

A new development in the case became known today when Chicago police notified Cleveland authorities that the suspect in the case probably was the salesman for a gang of drug thieves in Illinois.

CLUE FROM CHICAGO.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Chicago, Nov. 10.—Detectives who have followed the activities of drug thieves in this city professed today to see an intimate connection between these thefts and the murder of Dr. Harry L. Chapin, Cleveland physician, who is believed to have been lured to his death by persons who had agreed to furnish him with a narcotic.

The police here are searching for the leader of a gang of safebreakers who have recently committed drug burglaries, one of them being at Hammond, Ind. The police say it is probable that the drugs believed to have been shipped from Chicago to Dr. Chapin came from the supply stolen at Hammond.

HUNT PITTSBURGH MAN.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Pittsburgh, Nov. 10.—Detectives of Pittsburgh, at the request of Cleveland authorities, were today searching for a druggist, said to be a resident of this city, who, it is alleged, is connected with the murder of Dr. Harry L. Chapin, prominent physician and author. The authorities declined to say in what way the Pittsburgh druggist was connected with the murder.

CAPITOL DOME DARK.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Columbus, Nov. 10.—Following the war time program of curtailment of electric signs in order to save fuel, lights on the dome of the state house at Columbus will be hereafter turned out at 9 o'clock instead of 11 o'clock as in the past, thus effecting a saving of fuel amounting to $226 a night.

The state is thus setting the example for other public and private institutions using electricity for display signs, and thereby aiding the fuel administration's plans for cutting down the surplus of coal to non-essential industries.

UNFILLED STEEL ORDERS.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
New York, Nov. 10.—Unfilled orders of the U. S. Steel corporation on Oct. 31, last, were 9,009,675 tons, according to the monthly report issued today. This is a decrease of 223,802 tons from the orders of September 29, and is the sixth successive monthly decrease.

LENINE HEADS MINISTRY OF THE NEW GOVERNMENT

New Congress is Adjourned
After Approving Selection of the Cabinet Officers

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Washington, Nov. 10.—The Russian embassy in Washington announced this afternoon it would refuse to accept the authority of the Maximalist government.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Washington, Nov. 10.—The first reports from American Ambassador Francis on the upheaval in Russia arrived today, but added nothing to the news dispatches already received.

The ambassador's dispatches, filed on November 7 and November 8, said that up to that time all the ministers of the provisional government except Kerensky had been arrested.

American representatives of the Red Cross in Petrograd were all safe and no mention was made of any harm befalling any other Americans.

Although the city was quiet when the ambassador sent his report he indicated that it was then too early to secure a definite idea of conditions, especially outside the capital.

Until the situation has become more clearly defined there will continue practical suspension of official relations with Russia.

It was explained today that to continue negotiations now was impossible because it is not known just who is in power in the different departments. To obtain information from the country beyond the limits of Petrograd, Mr. Francis reported, was next to impossible because the wires were all in control of the Bolsheviks.

LENINE HEADS CABINET.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Petrograd, Nov. 9.—The all-Russian congress of workmen and soldiers' delegates is reported unofficially to have named a cabinet composed of Bolsheviks and then adjourned. The cabinet is headed by Nikolai Lenin as premier, and Leon Trotsky holds the post of foreign minister.

The cabinet will serve until the constituent assembly approves it or selects a new one. In addition to Lenin and Trotsky, the other members are reported to be as follows:

Minister of the Interior—M. Rikoff.
Minister of Finance—M. Svortzoff.
Minister of Agriculture—M. Milutin.
Minister of Labor—M. Shliapnikov.

Committee on War and Marine—(Continued on Page 2, Col. 3.)

WOMAN 108 YEARS OLD DIES IN TOLEDO ASYLUM

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Columbus, Nov. 10.—Mrs. Elizabeth Marquart, the oldest inmate in any of the numerous institutions, died yesterday at the Toledo state hospital, according to announcement today by the state board of administration.

Mrs. Marquart's home was in Sandusky, where funeral services will be held tomorrow. The Toledo state hospital was opened in 1888 and Mrs. Marquart was the twenty-fourth patient received. She was then 79 years old and has been a patient there ever since.

LOWERING OF BOATS COST SEVERAL LIVES ON TORPEDOED SHIP

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Washington, Nov. 10.—Admiral Sims cabled today that some of the loss of American lives in the unsuccessful attack on the transport Finland was due to the unauthorized lowering of boats.

The body of Newton R. Head, seaman, who was drowned, was picked up by the patrol boat Aledo, afterwards torpedoed and lost. The other two seamen lost were James W. Henry and Porter Hilton. Hilton was previously reported missing.

SAVE 250,000 TONS COAL.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Washington, Nov. 10.—Coal estimated at 250,000 tons will be conserved annually for essential industrial and domestic use by a new order of the fuel administration limiting the use of fuel for electric display lighting to the hours between 7:45 and 11 o'clock p. m.

The order is but a phase of a big campaign planned by Dr. Garfield to restrict the use of fuel during war time to those industries whose product is vitally necessary to the public or of use in carrying on the war.

OVERTHROW OF KERENSKY BY RADICALS THOUGHT TO BE INSPIRED BY BERLIN

Left to right, above: M. T. Terestchenko, Russian minister of foreign affairs; M. Skobelev, labor minister of Russia and radical leader; Premier Kerensky. Below: Prof. Paul Milukoff, leader of the Constitutional Democrats.

Russia's most recent upheaval has sprung largely from the disagreement between Premier Kerensky and the extreme radical group as to the representative of Russia at the approaching allied conference. The council of workmen and soldiers' deputies had named M. Skobelev as the "true representative of free Russia," and Kerensky as the "pro-English imperialist." The moderate elements of Russia regard the Petrograd disturbances as being not of nation-wide significance and look to the Constitutional Democrats, of whom Prof. Paul Milukoff is the leader, to deal with the situation.

RUSSIA PROPOSES 3 MONTHS' ARMISTICE; OPPOSITION GROWING

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
New York, Nov. 10.—An immediate armistice of three months will be offered by the Maximalist government of Petrograd. During this time Nikolai Lenin, leader of the Maximalists, plans that representatives elected by the people of all nations will settle the questions of peace. Lenin's government is willing to consider proposals for a just peace from either side.

Moscow, the ancient capital of Russia, is reported to have gone over to the revolutionists. The garrison has supported the revolutionary committee there in taking over the government offices. Conditions in Moscow and Petrograd are reported to be quiet.

The Bolshevik element in the peasant's congress and workmen's and soldiers' organizations is meeting with opposition from members of the Petrograd municipal council and the minimalists. The opposing factions will not acknowledge the authority of the Maximalists and are said to be planning an appeal to the Russian nation regarding the Petrograd revolt. A cabinet has been named by the Bolsheviks with Lenin as premier.

As yet no clashes between the Maximalists and the supporters of the Kerensky cabinet are reported and the whereabouts of Kerensky is still in doubt. The revolutionary committee has ordered that the former premier be arrested and imprisoned with the other ministers now in the fortress in Petrograd. Lenin also has given instructions that his forces shall move against any soldiers supporting Kerensky and has appealed to the railroad men not to transport Kerensky adherents.

It is not clear whether the Russian armies as a whole have accepted the new government, but it is reported that some units have gone over to the revolutionary side. All available Russian armies, except reports from Germany, must come through Petrograd and even these have not indicated any great rush to the revolutionary leaders from the soldiers outside Petrograd and Moscow.

The Russian war office has not issued an official statement for several days. Berlin in its statement, however, mentions a great activity on the eastern front and there are no reports that the Austro-Germans have taken advantage of the disorder in Petrograd to make a determined attack at vital points between the Baltic and Black Seas. A report from Copenhagen says the Germans have occupied the Aaland Islands, which lie between Sweden and Finland.

Italy's armies, under a new commander, General Diaz, are in their new positions, probably along the Piave river, ready to offer stouter resistance to the Austro-German invaders. It is apparent the momentary halt on the Livorno river was only for the purpose of delaying the enemy as much as possible until the bulk of the Italian forces could establish themselves in the new defensive line.

HUNS AGAIN RAID HOSPITALS; SEVEN KILLED, NINE HURT

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Paris, Nov. 10.—German aviators last night dropped bombs on a French hospital at Zuydcoote, department of the Nord, killing seven persons and wounding nine. Dunkirk was again bombarded, six casualties resulting, according to an official announcement.

NO DISSENSION IN BROTHERHOOD RANKS LEADERS DECLARE

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Cleveland, Nov. 10.—"There is absolutely no foundation for reports that the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen and the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers are at loggerheads over an agreement that has been in force since 1913," said W. S. Carter, president of the former organization today.

The agreement provides that the two organizations co-operate in all matters affecting the two bodies. Mr. Carter made this statement in connection with the conclusion of a meeting of the general chairman of the firemen's brotherhood, eastern division, representing one hundred railroads east of Chicago, who have been in session here since Tuesday considering the question of requesting increased wages.

The general chairman in session here appointed a committee of six to take up the wage question and other matters at a conference to be called in some centrally located city, probably next month. The southern and western divisions of the firemen's brotherhood will be asked to appoint similar committees for the conference. The organization has more than one hundred thousand members in the three divisions.

WETS MAINTAIN LEAD; CHANCES OF DRYS FADING

Official count Still Missing
From Several Counties

HAMILTON CO. OFFICIAL HAD ERROR OF 21 VOTES

Most of Changes Indicated
By New Returns Were Less Than 100

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Cincinnati, Nov. 10.—With the official returns from Cuyahoga, Hamilton, Carroll and Pike counties still missing at noon today the vote continued to lead as a result of Tuesday's prohibition election, but for the first time in almost 50 hours this majority had been cut to less than 1000, the figure being 997.

While 16 counties reported their official returns to the secretary of state late last night and this morning, the net difference between the unofficial figures and the official figures amounted to only 101, and these were in favor of the drys.

The totals of the tabulation of 76 counties reporting officially to the secretary of state, eight reporting officially from county seats, and four reporting completely, but unofficially, were: For prohibition, 522,599; against, 523,596.

As times as word from different county seats was received losses or gains were sustained by either side, but toward midnight variations were principally within the hundred mark. Hamilton county, Cincinnati showed only 21 votes difference in its official and unofficial returns.

Only one large city, Cleveland, Cuyahoga county, was left in the unofficial column. The other counties were small. An urgent order has been sent to each of these counties by the Secretary of State to hurry the returns and with their receipt Ohio may hope to merge from the cloud of doubt which has enveloped the wet and dry horizon for four days.

MISTAKES WERE "HONEST."
Columbus, Nov. 10.—Assistant Secretary of State Gregory reported from Cincinnati to Secretary of State Fulton last night that he had not been able to find anything irregular in the vote of the Hamilton county board. Drys, however, stated that they were continuing to gather evidence with which they might contest the vote, should the result go against them.

Regardless of victory for either side, indications are for another wet and dry election next fall. Wets also stated today that there was a chance for contest on their part, should the state be declared dry upon official returns of Tuesday's election.

James A. White, dry leader, still claimed victory for the prohibitionists and insisted that the drys would win in spite of efforts of his opponents.

CUYAHOGA IS COUNTING.

Cleveland, Nov. 10.—The Cuyahoga county board of elections dropped the official counting of the majority and council municipal ballots this morning and pitched into the tabulation of the wet and dry vote on orders received from the secretary of state by Clerk Hirsutis of the board. The count was likely to be finished late this afternoon, Hirsutis said. Lawyers representing the drys and wets were allowed in the board rooms to watch the count.

JUDGE BARS DRAMATIC FROM TRIAL OF WOMAN

New York, Nov. 10.—Justice David F. Manning of the supreme court, who will preside at the trial at Mineola, Long Island, of Mrs. Blanche de Saulles for the murder of her former husband, John L. de Saulles, of Yale football fame, on Nov. 19, has announced that the trial will be free of any sensational features. Photographers will be barred from the courtroom, as will knitters and luncheon parties. No one will be allowed to stand in the room or in the corridors.

CADORNA BECOMES ADVISOR ON ALLES' WAR COMMITTEE

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Rome, Friday, Nov. 9.—General Alfieri, the minister of war in announcing to General Cadorna his appointment to the inter-allied military committee says that he understands how sorry General Cadorna will be to have to leave the army so often led to victory. General Cadorna's sorrow, the minister adds, will be shared by the army and the committee as Cadorna's name stands for intelligence, courage, firmness and energy. However, the government has felt bound to ask General Cadorna to make this sacrifice so that he might contribute in a larger field to the common task of Italy and the allies.

General Alfieri also sent a telegram of congratulation to General Diaz, the new commander-in-chief, expressing in the name of Italy, confidence in him.

WILL SEIZE CORN.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Paris, Nov. 10.—All the corn in France will be requisitioned at an early date, Maurice Long, minister of provisions announced in the chamber of deputies last night. All the grinding mills will be put under government control so that bread may be supplied throughout France at the same price.

NEWARK TEACHERS NAMED OFFICERS BY GEN. OHIO TEACHERS

(Associated Press Telegram)
Springfield, O., Nov. 10.—With sincere appreciation of the courteous attention and splendid entertainment afforded them while their convention was in session in this city, more than 3000 members of the Central Ohio Teachers' Association closed their two-day meeting at noon today in the Memorial Hall.

The day's program included two addresses by two of the foremost orators of the day—Dr. Wm. H. Kilpatrick, teachers' college, Columbia University, and Dr. J. W. Hoffman, president Ohio Wesleyan University, Delaware, O. These addresses were both interesting and instructive, and met with well-merited applause.

The report of the committee on nominations, which was approved by the members, is as follows: President, E. L. Horner, Dayton; secretary, Miss Mary Larson, Newark, executive committee, Wilson Hawkins, Newark, chairman; W. C. Coy, Columbus, and George Dietrich, Piqua. B. B. Harlan, Dayton, was chosen central district member of the executive committee of the association, and Miss Eleanor L. Skinner, Columbus, was elected member of the board of control of the Ohio Teachers' Reading Circle. J. H. Francis, Columbus, was elected central district member of the committee on resolutions, and C. W. Cookson, Troy, central district member of the committee on necrology.

The next meeting place will be selected by the executive committee.

The committee will leave Chamber of Commerce promptly at 8:30 tomorrow morning.

DESERTERS SHOOT SHERIFF; INNOCENT BYSTANDER KILLED

(Associated Press Telegram)
Nashville, Tenn., Nov. 10.—One man was killed and four wounded in a shooting affray at Huntington today when sheriff's posse went to the home of Charles Whitaker to arrest one of his sons and Jos Baker, charged with being deserters from the 144th field artillery. Two of the Whitaker boys including the alleged deserter were wounded and the sheriff was shot in the hand. The other alleged deserter escaped. Cleve Whitaker, who was killed, was said to have taken no part in the shooting.

IRELAND FREE FROM WAR-TIME RESTRICTIONS

(Correspondence Associated Press.)
Base of American Flotilla in British Waters. Oct. 25.—When an American naval man who has visited Ireland in time of peace is asked what has impressed him most about Ireland in war, the inevitable answer is "Ireland's prosperity and freedom from the war time restrictions of other countries." Hundreds of the Americans in the naval forces have visited England, Scotland and even France. All agree that there is more freedom in Ireland, particularly less war time curtailment of personal liberty, as for instance regarding restrictions in eating and drinking. There is no conscription there, no "defense of the realm act," and few war taxes.

Certainly when it comes to food and drink, Ireland is a land of plenty in comparison with England. There is not only more food and drink there than in England, but it is of better quality.

And in most parts of Ireland it is cheaper. Meatless and potatoeless days are unknown there. Potatoes were never so plentiful.

BULGARIAN ENVOY REPUDIATES AUTHOR OF HYMN OF HATE

(Associated Press Telegram)
Washington, Nov. 10.—Publication of a Bulgarian hymn of hate, teeming with incitement to cruelty and atrocities has aroused officials and diplomats here and drawn from the Bulgarian minister, Stephen Panaretoff, the declaration that the purported author, Ivan Arnaudoff, described as "the Bulgarian Pindar," is of no standing to speak the national sentiments of Bulgaria.

A literal translation of the poem bristles with expressions and phrases of revolting incitement to the men, women and children of enemy country overrun by Bulgarian troops. "Let not one stone unrest on another," says a translation of Arnaudoff's poem to the Bulgarian troops. "Let not one child rejoice on its mother's breast, not one old man lean on his grand son's shoulder. Throw their skulls to the starving dogs. . . . let there remain on the ruins your hand has sown only skeletons and ghosts. . . ."

"See that decrepit old men who drags his miserable years seeking to cheat death and your zeal. Fell him under your boot and with the fork tear out his troubled eyes. . . ."

The remainder of the lines are devoted principally to incitement to unspeakable excesses of rapine and murder.

Chicago, Nov. 10.—Scores of persons were injured in railroad, street car and elevator collisions and other accidents due to a heavy fog here this morning. The injuries were mostly of a slight nature.

Japan's New Naval Base.
Japan's purchase from Portugal of the little island of Macao, at the mouth of the Canton river, near Hongkong, has given Japan a strong naval base, such as Gibraltar gives to Great Britain and Heligoland gives to Germany. It can be used to menace any European power that tries to thwart the ambitions of Japan in China.

ITALIANS HALT HUN ARMY; LOSE ASIAGO VILLAGE

been successfully reached by the Italian forces in their retirement they are being subjected to a newly developed menace on their left flank. The Teutonic command has finally sprung its expected drive on the western edge of the Trentino. Pushing south in the Sugano Valley, Austro-German troops have forced their way as far as Asiago, Berlin announces, and after desperate street fighting have captured that place.

Rome indicates successful Italian resistance to thrusts in the Tesino basin at Brocon pass. The German announcement, however, may indicate the subsequent pushing back of the line in this sector which is in the northern Sugana valley region.

The attack is in the Asiago district must be held by the Italians if their Piave line is not turned and the whole northeastern Italy fall into the hands of the invaders.

In their offensive of 1916 the Austrians pushed into the Asiago hills but were ultimately checked and afterwards driven back near their border. It is approximately checked eleven miles from Asiago to the Italian plains, the Austro-German objective, and the hilly country is admirably adapted to defense.

Further west in the Trentino an Austro-German attack was launched in the Ledro valley but was quickly repulsed.

In Frangera the British attack north and northwest of Passcheda, this morning and at points pushed forward half a mile in the early fighting. The assault was on a limited front—about a mile and a half.

SUB FLEES WHEN U. S. GUNNERS CUT LOOSE WITH RIFLE

(Associated Press Telegram)
An Atlantic port, Nov. 10.—A shot from a 6-inch gun manned by navy gunners, saved an American passenger steamship from attack by a German submarine on a voyage from England, which ended here today. The submarine was washed a mile off the port quarter on November 1. The gun crew's first shot landed so close that the boat instantly submerged. The submarine, the ship's officers believe, had sunk a merchant only a short time earlier.

AVERT FUEL FAMINE IN PITTSBURGH DISTRICT

(Associated Press Telegram)
Pittsburgh, Nov. 10.—A coal famine in households of Pittsburgh and the Beaver and Mahoning valleys was averted yesterday when coal operators of the district contributed 10,000 tons for distribution to domestic consumers. D. W. Kahn, fuel administrator here, will have charge of the distribution.

In an effort to prevent a manufacturing fuel famine, local manufacturers have announced that they will specialize in night work hereafter. Electric power company officials, stated that this will greatly relieve the situation, as the day time demand is very heavy at the present time.

PRACTICAL HEALTH HINT.

Children's Headaches.
"Children," says a noted English physician, "have no business with headaches, and if these occur frequently at any school there is something evidently wrong there. The headache girl is not unlikely to grow up an invalid woman, and the unstable mental state may develop into epilepsy." Few parents are fully alive to the importance of recognizing the signs of nervous breakdown in children during the school period and of taking steps to prevent injuries through overstudy and the anxiety that frequently accompanies study, especially during the high school period. It is better to consult a physician before it becomes necessary to discontinue the school work. It is more important that athletic exercises and games that will relieve the mental strain of severe study be provided for girls than for boys in the high school period.

Arkansas the Mighty.

If all the rice in Arkansas were one grain it would take a Grand canyon to store it. If all the corn in Arkansas were one ear it would take the combined force of all stump pullers to extract one grain from that ear. If all the chickens in Arkansas were one chicken it would straddle the Rocky mountains like a colossus and its crow would shake the rings from Saturn. If all the hogs in Arkansas were one hog he could stand with his hind feet on the isthmus of Panama and dig the canal with one stroke of his snout. If all the cows in Arkansas were one cow she could graze on the evergreens of the tropics and switch the icicles from the north pole with her tail and it would take a canal from the great lakes to the gulf of Mexico to carry boats laden with her butter and cheese. If all the mules in Arkansas were one mule he could stand with one fore foot on Mexico and the other fore foot on Canada and kick the man out of the moon.—H. S. Art of Politeness.

All truly artistic effort is a labor of love, and love never counts the cost. Art has no price and makes none. A perfect art of politeness ever involves in one respect or another acts of self abnegation. There is the famous example of Lord Stair and Louis XIV. when his lordship, being bidden by the king to precede him into one of the royal carriages, immediately complied. The politeness was equal on both sides. The French sovereign gave proof of so magnanimous a monarch by abandoning his prerogative of precedence in his own dominions to the Scotch viscount.

The English ambassador returned the compliment by yielding immediate obedience to the behest of a king who was not his master. Neither sacrifice was outdone by the other.

Early Railroad.

Some seventy-five years ago when two trains of the Western Atlantic railway met on the road's single track line violent discussions ensued between the conductors as to which train should back up and take the side track, and the engineers frequently joined in the dispute. Rule 14, issued March 1, 1852, says: "As a general rule when trains meet between stations the train nearest the turnout will run back. Any dispute as to which train is to retire is to be determined at once by the conductors without interference on the part of the engineer. This rule is required to be varied in favor of the heaviest loaded engine or worst grades if they meet near the center." Conductors were admonished never to leave either terminal point without the mail or at least first sending to the postoffice for it.

How Long Will a Battery Last?

That depends to a tremendous extent on the quality of the insulation between the plates.

It is the insulation that protects the plates from contact with one another—from short circuiting—and perhaps—ruining the battery.

In perfecting Threaded Rubber Insulation, Willard has developed the sturdiest, most durable battery insulation made—one which greatly reduces the chances of "broken down" insulation.

And this important factor in long battery life is backed up by Willard Service, which will test and fill your battery regularly, give you good advice in battery care, and offers expert work when you need repairs or recharging.

Is Willard Service working for you?

LICKING COUNTY SOLDIER BOYS

Editor of the Advocate:—After a month of camp life, I find time to write the Advocate and the people of Licking county. Words cannot express my thanks and appreciation for that wonderful medal which I enjoyed receiving the day, (Oct. 4) I left Newark. I also wish to thank the members of the local board for their kindness shown towards me, by letting me play my last piece with the good old Buckeye band. I wanted to play a cornet solo the day I left but the lump in my throat was too large. But I was happy as I knew that I was doing my part to save our beloved country and "Old Glory." I certainly like the camp life. To tell the truth, I believe we could not be treated any better. We have the best of care and very good food. I have gained four pounds since coming here. I get the Advocate every day, so why shouldn't I like the army life? I am a happy man when I can lie on my "bunk" and read the news from home. Thanking one and all, I remain, yours truly, Corporal J. L. Klein, Band, 324th F. A. (heavy) Camp Sherman. Regards to all and the Buckeye Band.

Editor of the Advocate:—I hope you will excuse my delay in writing to you. I received my bronze medal which was presented to me by the people of dear old Licking county and I surely do appreciate it and wear it on a ribbon around my neck. I wouldn't take a fortune for it as it shows that the people still think of the boys that are ready to give their lives for those at home. We are having a real good time but are kept rather busy doing guard duty and military police duty in the city of Montgomery. Our camp is situated about three miles from the city, and covers about thirty square miles, so you can see it is some camp. Everything here is done in a business way and you can see wagons, trucks and most every kind of vehicles going here and there taking care of the needs of the camp and soldiers. I am over to the Army V. M. C. A. and I must say, that this organization is doing more for the soldiers than any other organization of its kind in the world. It not only gives us a place to spend our hours off duty but also provides us with writing material and entertainments of all kinds. I receive the Advocate every day and it sure does help a great deal as it gives me the news of what is happening in my home town and the surrounding country. We are having very nice weather here, and I like this country all right, but there is no place on the earth that can take the place of the hills and valleys of dear old Licking county. All the Newark boys in our company are in good health and all having a good time, as they say they are on a big vacation and will soon be back among their friends at home. This city is noted for its pretty girls, but I can't see it that way, as I think that there is no place in the U. S. A. that they have as pretty girls as in the dear old Buckeye state. Well, I want to thank you again for the medal and in behalf of the Newark boys I send their best regards to all the people in dear old Licking county. Give my regards to all—I remain, yours truly, Harry H. Varner, Co. B, Military Police, Camp Sheridan, Montgomery, Ala.

CLEVELAND RED CROSS

HOLDS DEMONSTRATION

(Associated Press Telegram)
Cleveland, Nov. 10.—This is "Red" Cross Day" in Cleveland. Thousands of men and women workers, committed to the cause of war mercy, are joining in a patriotic demonstration, including a parade and three mass meetings.

Henry P. Davison, chairman of the National War Council of the Red Cross, and Harvey D. Gibson, manager of the National Association, are here as guests of honor. They will tell Clevelanders who contributed the one-hundred-million-dollar Red Cross war fund, recently raised, just how the money is being spent.

One thousand representatives from out-of-town chapters in Ohio, Indiana and Kentucky, the territory of the lakes division, are here for the day.

James R. Garfield, manager of the Red Cross lake division, will preside at the public mass meeting tonight. The chief addresses will be made by Mr. Davison and Mr. Gibson.

QUARTER MILLION FIRE LOSS.

(Associated Press Telegram)
New Rochelle, N. Y., Nov. 10.—Fire in the business section here early today destroyed several stores and then carried two blocks by sparks to a nearby residence section, destroying five houses and damaged two others. The loss is estimated at $250,000. Fire apparatus from Mt. Vernon, Pelham and Karchmont aided the local department.

READJUST SCALE OF WAGES FOR MINERS; BAN ELECTRIC SIGNS

(Associated Press Telegram)
Cleveland, Nov. 10.—Ohio coal operators and representatives of miners in conference here have practically completed their task of readjusting the wage scale in the sixteen mining districts of the state. The new scale becomes operative automatically. An eight-hour workday and a flat increase of $1.40 a day for all adults employed in or around Ohio mines, are provided.

Ohio's coal administrator, Homer Johnson, will watch the state's mines. Operators attending the conferences, and John Moore, president of the Ohio Miners' organization, say, railway equipment will figure largely against mining and shipment during the winter.

"There will be no abundance of coal," Mr. Moore said, "and consumers should begin conserving their supply now."

It was announced in Washington yesterday that the fuel administrator had issued an order that electric signs should burn between 7:45 and 11 o'clock only, and that if necessary orders would be issued that coal should be furnished only to those industries necessary to the successful prosecution of the war. The order regarding electric signs will save 50 per cent of the fuel used in plants in large centers, the administrator estimates.

In sizing up their friends the only distinguishing mark some people can see is the dollar mark.

ARMY Y. M. C. A.

The S. S. Kresge five and ten-cent store announces that one-half of the total sales of the Kresge store here next Tuesday will be given to the Y. M. C. A. war work fund. Already 65 employees of the Kresge stores are in Uncle Sam's service.

Mr. C. B. Van Dusen of the executive department of the Kresge company, recently sent a letter to every man and woman in the Kresge organization saying:

"During the first Liberty loan I gave practically all my time and subscribed for what I could. I am now working in the campaign for the second loan. I flattered myself that I was doing a lot for my country. I spent yesterday visiting the U. S. A. cantonment at Camp Custer, Battle Creek, Mich. Today I have quite a new idea as to the value of what one may give. At that camp I saw thousands of men—young men—hot one of them is being paid half by Uncle Sam what he could earn in the open market. I saw doctors who had given up valuable practice—professional men who had given up everything—college men who had laid aside the advantages of education and the promise of a successful career—men used to all the pleasures and enjoyable sports that in these days are so common—giving up—wearing khaki—rising at 5:30, drilling and working till late in the day—discharging their duties day or night with equal willingness—and more than all, awaiting their call to go across and 'over the top'—to come back—whole—maimed—or not at all, as God wills. So I say, I have an entirely new idea of the value of what one may give—what I have given is a miserable pittance compared with what these men are giving. What are you giving?"

Every man in the army will testify to the great work the Y. M. C. A. is doing. Every visitor to the cantonments is impressed by the things the Y. M. C. A. is doing for the soldiers. Every officer is a booster for the Y. M. C. A. It would be a calamity to have the work stop. Next week will come the nation-wide campaign to raise $35,000,000 for the army Y. M. C. A. work. Licking county is asked to give $30,000 and, of course, she will do it. This county already has 600 men in the army and navy and more are going. We can render them a fine service through the army Y. M. C. A.

Someone asks what has become of the old-time restaurants that used to hang out the sign, "Regular dinner, 25 cents." Dunno, but I heard from one of them he said he was going to quit philanthropy and go into business.

These German spies who circulate these yarns about transports sunk by submarines, should remember they are living in a country where real newspapers are published.

BETTER FIRE INSPECTION.

Alarmed at the frightful waste of property in fires, many communities are taking hold of fire-prevention with much enthusiasm. It is work that is needed in Newark. Most of our fires have been in the preventable class.

Columbia, Mo., a town of 10,000 people, lost $177,000 worth of property in one year's fires. Stirred to action by this serious depletion of their resources, they started a fire-prevention campaign. Buildings were thoroughly inspected, rubbish removed, and educational work conducted. Next year the fire-loss was reduced to $20,000, and the next year to $12,000.

In one way insurance is a misfortune. People feel that as they can protect themselves from serious loss, therefore they do not need to take pains against fire. The result is that everyone is careless. If we don't pay insurance ourselves, we pay costs of doing business in which insurance is a sizable item.

In communities that take this up in earnest, no perfunctory examination is made. The inspector complains of rubbish accumulation, talks to housewives about careless use of gasoline, rebukes householders for allowing chimneys to get filled up with soot and for using flues that are defective.

Overheated stoves and furnaces are a fruitful source of fires. Many people dispose of rubbish by burning it in the house at this time of year. The smokepipe may have rotted out in summer, allowing sparks and flame to go onto woodwork. The first kindling of the fall fires is a time that firemen dread. It costs but little to educate public sentiment, and it saves a great deal. Unfortunately there are some people who won't remove hazardous conditions unless actually prosecuted. Inspect and clean basements and garrets, don't allow rubbish to accumulate, use no rubber hose gas connections, have faulty wiring repaired. In other words: be careful. It pays.

POTASH.

Potash seems a long way removed from the trench armies in France. Yet many of the scientists say it is a vital factor. A prominent German expert says that America is fighting with a rope around her neck. That rope is potash, and Germany holds the business end, by her monopoly of that vital plant-food.

The United States needs 300,000 tons of potash annually. Yet last year by our best efforts we could produce but 10,000 tons. Next year we expect to get out 25,000. It is figured with all byproducts utilized, we may be able to develop 45,000 tons.

According to this German authority, the United States cannot fight long because we lack this essential element. No doubt that idea is useful in deluding the German people, who believe anything their divinely-appointed leaders tell them. They do not realize that the larger share of American food products are being raised without fertilizer.

It is poor policy to keep on taking out of the soil and never putting back. The Germans would never do it. They are correctly trained to know that in the end that means agricultural bankruptcy. But our soils are rich enough to see us through this war, though the lack of this element has hit us hard already. After the war we must stop this pernicious practice of using a soil up, and then moving somewhere else. Now that our free lands are all taken up, there is nothing for it but to adopt the true principles of soil-conservation.

It remains to be seen what political use Germany will make of her potash. When the terms are fixed up around the council table, will she hold us up, and refuse to give us any potash unless we concede her demands?

Advertising was considered profitable to the merchant and interesting to the public in days when it was regarded as impolite to mention the price of things in conversation. How much more so now, when everyone is talking about prices every day!

An exchange remarks that Mr. Will "execute" a solo at church, Sunday morning. It is not stated whether he is going to electrate it or merely hang it.

When a man is seen lurking around a food storage warehouse late at night, it is not a wholly satisfactory explanation that he is an astronomer engaged in observing the stars.

Long-distance telephone messages taxed now, and after one listens a little to soapbox orators and telephone visiting, this idea of taxing talk seems to have great possibilities.

Any man who crawls about the new taxes can always enlist and help shorten the time we have to pay them.

GO TO CHURCH TOMORROW

"O worship the Lord in the beauty of holiness," exclaimed the psalmist centuries ago, and he touched the chord that vibrates through the ages.

Beauty is the high priest of nature leading us to the worship of God. The heavens declare the glory of God; the firmament showeth His handiwork; the stars in their courses; the planets swinging in their orbits; the flowers that spring up along our pathway; the birds beautiful in plumage and rich in song; everything that God hath made, everywhere join in the exhortation to the soul of man to worship the Lord in the beauty of holiness.

Holiness is not an isolated virtue, such as patience, gratitude and charity. Holiness is a blending of all the virtues—just as white is a blending of all colors. Holiness is the white light in the moral world.

The whole is always more beautiful than a part. It is a lovely thing to see the devout individual worshipping God in his own appointed way; it is a beautiful sight when all the people join in such worship.

The "beauty of holiness" does not depend on the choir, attractive forms of service, magnificent or commonplace sermons, or even in pouring out the soul in prayer. But when the choir, the form of service, the preacher and the multitude, all, in delightful harmony, unite in a God-dedicated sanctuary in a worship that ascends as a sweet incense to the Great Creator and Governor of the universe, then there is a beauty that is reflected from heaven itself.

The church doors in Newark are all wide open that whosoever will may enter and worship. Be one of the great throng in our churches tomorrow and help make glad the "City of Our God" and not the least of the recompense will be the increased beauty of your own life and character.

JAPANESE-AMERICAN RELATIONS.

(Philadelphia Record.)

Though the understanding arrived at between Secretary Lansing and Viscount Ishii, special ambassador of Japan, has not been embodied in a regularly documented, signed and ratified treaty, it has taken a form no less morally binding. In fact, many of the most important international arrangements of times past as well as of the present are contained in memoranda of conversations and in notes summarizing the same with a terse statement of the results of the oral communications. The Dreibund and the Triple Entente, to mention only two of the most important modern alliances, had no firmer basis than conversations and notes stating the results thereof. As for the supposedly greater solemnity of treaties, recent experience and past history teach that this quality offers no guarantee against bad faith.

The informal gentlemen's agreement has an advantage also in permitting the expression concisely and in general terms of matters which it would be difficult to express in the precise language of a more formal instrument. Thus the concession by the government that Japan has special interests in China is contained in the recognition of the general principle that territorial propinquity creates special relations between countries. We are conceding no more than we claim for ourselves; and the concession is not open to misunderstanding. No right to dominate a neighboring nation or to impair its independence or sovereignty is conferred thereby. It simply implies the duty to protect a neighbor from the aggression of a third party, and the right to do so out of self-protection. Even if a declaration of this principle constituted the whole of our understanding with Japan it would have been self-explanatory.

The agreement goes further, however, declaring that the territorial sovereignty of China shall not thereby be considered in anywise affected or diminished; and that Japan has no desire to, and will not, discriminate against the trade of other nations or disregard any commercial rights hitherto granted by China to other powers. The principle of the "open door" is reasserted, and neither party will infringe upon the independence of China. The parties declare themselves mutually opposed to acquisition by any government (including, inferentially their own) of any special rights or privileges in China that would affect the independence or territorial integrity of the latter, or deny to the subjects or citizens of any country full enjoyment of equal opportunity in the commerce or industry of China. The understanding reached is a negation of the objectionable features of the Japanese-Russian treaty respecting China and of the Chinese-Japanese treaty, both concluded since the world began. In addition to clarifying the relations between the United States and Japan, the understanding has the merit of clarifying the whole international situation in the Far East.

SUFFRAGE AND PROHIBITION.

(Pittsburg Gazette-Times.)

These subjects are so commonly coupled by propagandists on either side it is worthy of note that tests at the polls indicate they are not closely associated in the public mind. New York state on Tuesday granted suffrage to women; New York which is popularly credited with being the chief bulwark of the demon rum in the United States, is New York ripe for prohibition, or do the men of the empire state not fear their domineers will take away their toddy?

We need not strain for a conclusion which would be inconclusive, while we congratulate the women on their victory and express the hope and belief they will use the ballot only in furtherance of the best public interests. At the same time, we respectfully repeat our conviction that the suffragists' best hope of enfranchisement throughout the country is the voters of the several states. The result in New York confirms that. Gaining their end through direct expression of the people will the more surely establish their rights to vote than securing it through the less representative federal amendment. New York's judgment, though recorded under abnormal conditions of which the suffragists took advantage, unquestionably will influence the action of the electors of other commonwealths on this subject.

In Ohio both suffrage and prohibition were before the voters. Suffrage was beaten by a large majority. Apparently the official count will be necessary to determine the result on prohibition. The closeness of the vote but insures early success of the amendment. It will be observed the Ohio election does not give ground for the interested belief that woman suffrage and prohibition are in any sense interdependent reforms. Else why did not the Ohio "drys" do as well for suffrage as they did for prohibition?

Then comes New Mexico. Apparently prohibition won there on Tuesday. Women have partial suffrage in New Mexico. What influence they had on the "dry" vote is not indicated by the reports. All in all, the two subjects seem to be unwarrantably linked, but both making rapid progress.

Spirit of the Press

Leave It to Mother.

As an earnest of its intention to bring the retailer into line with the recession of manufacturers' and wholesalers' prices, the United States government has commenced the practice of advertising what it regards as reasonable and fair prices to consumers. There is also the assurance on the part of Mr. Hoover that, if this expedient does not bring the retailer into line, congress will be appealed to in December to empower the food administrator to deal more imperatively with price abuses.

Law can hardly be a greater invitation to equitable prices than the official announcement of what these should be. Mother has been suspicious of the retailer for some time, and has vainly looked about for some leverage to utilize in making him more reasonable. She has used a veiled irony that has sunk deeply into the retailer's cuticle, but not sufficiently deep to divorce him from his profits. Mother has stung the retailer until he is ray, in spirit, but he has managed to band on to his profits.

Now, Mr. Hoover's printed pronouncements in black and white, she asks nothing more than an opportunity to visit with the corner grocer and the butcher, in relation thereto.—Seattle Post-Intelligencer.

Fifty Millions for War.

Fifty million dollars is the maximum sum which this country may have to spend in this war, according to some of the learned men who have been addressing the Academy of Political and Social Science. These statements did not come from academic philosophers, but from financiers, legislators and coal-headed business men. The sum seems large, but whatever it is, the money will be forthcoming.

It is not a matter of cost, but of success. Even the figures named is by no means alarming. It amounts to about one-fifth of our national wealth, but it is certain that more than half of it will be paid out of current income. Already the recording powers have extended, according to estimate, about 30 per cent of their national wealth, and they have no way of increasing it, as they are shut off from the world.

The only thing to do is to prosecute this war to victory at any cost if we do not want to be mortgaged to Germany indefinitely.—Philadelphia Bulletin.

To hunt up all stray noodies and to shoot the rascals down. "Ha! ha!" he laughed in fiendish glee, "no ho" and also "whoop!" 'Til these blue jeans monsters and I'll make 'em loop the loop, I'll shoot myself to glory and I'll win undying fame.

"And I'll make a record that will set the bloomin' world aflame."

Biff bang! the awful sound was heard from early morn 'till night. The streets were like a slaughter house, 'twas sure a gruesome sight. The gutters all were running full up to the brim with gore. And such yelling, and such yelling no one ever heard before. There were legless dogs and tailless dogs and dogs without no ears. There were yellow dogs and brindles, yes and dogs of tender years. But never a wild never faltered as upon his cruel way. He slew the worthless critters like a farmer cuttin' hay.

But at last the smoke of battle like a storm cloud passed away. And when the sun came out on a round-trip mayor had bravely won the day. As like a knight of old he strode, adown the rows of dead. With his weapon on his shoulder and a halo round his head. "Ha, ha, I'm from Missouri!" yelled he, "with an awful roar!" "Show me more fields to conquer, ay, bring on the dogs of war!"

But the enemy was routed, he had fled from early morn 'till night. And his hero stood unchallenged like a king upon his throne.

And now 'tis said the people everywhere thru' out the land. All praise the gallant conqueror who boldly took his stand. And cleared a thriving city of an eyecore and a pest. Till it stands today the pride of all, the north, east, south and west. To never more be bothered with the snapping snarling cur. Nor to have their vision blinded with a realising horror.

And they have the satisfaction added to the great renown. Of living there in safety in a well known dogless town. I. Gotmine.

SOCIAL EVENTS

(Society Editor, Auto Phone 2812.)

Miss Helen Buell delightfully entertained a few of her friends at her home in Jacksonville, Monday, previous to her departure for Chatham, O. The evening was spent in many various games and music, after which a light lunch was served. The following were present: Misses Verna Miller, Fern Blakey, Hazel Davis, Lura Swartz, Miriam Osburn, Dorothy Orr, Margaret Davis, Ruth Weigand, Helen and Lela Woolard, Frances Meredith, William Davis and Helen Buell; Messrs. Andrew Wallace, Lester Coyle, George Coyle, Samuel Davis, Herbert Woolard, Harry Smith, R. Lawrence, Robert Dittico, Chester Gutridge, Claud Crist and Freeman Dushimer of Berea.

Friday, the twenty-fifth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Burr J. Edman, of Washington township, was celebrated in a most fitting and joyful manner. More than one hundred and fifty of their neighbors, friends and relatives came with baskets well filled with young chicken and all the luscious dainties of the season. A tent was erected in the yard to accommodate a large number of the dinner party. Vocal and instrumental music interspersed with speeches by some of the friends helped to make the occasion long to be remembered by all those who participated. Mr. and Mrs. Edman received a number of gifts. Following were those present:

Mrs. Ed Neibarger, daughter Eva, and Mrs. Ernest Matthews and children, St. Louisville; Mrs. A. B. Williams, Mrs. Ella Minnick, Mt. Vernon; Mrs. W. O. IN THIS WORLD OF OURS

SOME PEOPLE DIE FROM OVERWORK AND NOT ENOUGH TO EAT.

SOME PEOPLE DIE FROM OVEREATING AND NOT ENOUGH TO DO.

Our Boys and Girls

It would be an excellent thing if all people kept liquid soap in their bathrooms. In France it is considered a bad form among well bred people to use another's soap just as it is to use another person's toothbrush. The soap should be held under the hot water for half a minute before using it if it is a family cake but it is better to give each child his individual piece of soap. This will be a good opportunity to teach them economy also. Tell the children they must not let the soap lie in the water, because it will take fathers' money that is needed for something else. They will thus become interested and will cooperate in saving it.

If it happens that a child is obliged to use a cake of soap used by other people teach the little one that the soap must have a bath before and after using.

Every Day Etiquette

"What should a young lady say when called on by a young man with a letter of introduction from an out of town friend? Is it proper to read it before him?" enquired Mona.

"You should invite the young man in and read the note in his presence. Then shake hands with him and introduce him to members of your family," replied her aunt.

Pretty Hands.

It is possible to have pretty hands, even when one must do housework. All that is required is a little precaution and extra care. I know of a woman whom I frequently find scrubbing the kitchen floor and the front steps, and yet has soft, well-shaped hands that are more beautiful than many of her work-free friends. Personally, I would value very little the friendship of any woman whose hands did not perform their share of service to humanity, and personally too, I have added respect for that woman who, while contributing her part, kept her hands well groomed. And a positive admiration have I for the woman whose hands under the circumstances of service are beautiful.

The first thing to do with an unsightly pair of hands is to whiten them. For this purpose there is nothing better than almond meal. A very convenient method is to make a small white muslin bag that may be kept close at hand and rubbed in the hands before they are dry, immediately after the soap has been rinsed off.

Buttermilk, too, is a whitener that is not to be despised. It is a most inexpensive beautifier and a reliable one, if you have a quantity of it, wash both hands and face in it daily, and you will soon notice a great improvement.

When it becomes necessary to use strong soaps in housework you should counteract the action of it upon the hands by rinsing them in vinegar and then clear water. Wipe dry on a soft towel.

THE COURTS

Must Leave County.

In the case of the State of Ohio vs. Louis Mesling, indicted for buying a number of pounds of scrap lead, the property of the B. & O. R. Co., knowing the same to have been stolen, the jury found the defendant guilty.

State of Ohio vs. Cato Chambers, indicted for cutting Fountain Johnson, the defendant pleaded guilty to assault and battery. He was sentenced to pay a fine of $200 and six months in jail. Sentence was suspended upon condition that he leave the county and stay away.

Will Case Argued.

In common pleas court the court heard the arguments of counsel and took under advisement the case of Edward Kibler and W. A. Robbins, executors of Sidney Smith, deceased, vs. Dora Pigg, et al. The suit was brought for the purpose of obtaining a construction by the court of the will of Sidney Smith, and asking the court to direct as to whom the legacy of $1100.00, which was made to William Pigg, who died before Sidney Smith, shall be distributed; whether to Ella Smith, the residuary legatee, on the theory that the legacy lapsed by the death of William Pigg, or whether it should go to Dora Pigg, widow of William Pigg. The arguments of counsel made to Judge Fulton by Edward Kibler for the executor, J. R. Fitzgibbon for David H. Pigg and Carl Norpell representing Dora Pigg.

Suit for Money.

Frank S. Green has filed a petition in common pleas court against Homer and Milton Levering, alleging that the defendants are indebted to him in the sum of $336.96 for commissions on buying grain and wheat, and for which amount he asks damages.

HONOR FIRST WAR MARTYR.

(Associated Press Telegram)

Pittsburgh, Nov. 10.—In honor of Thomas Enright, private with the American expeditionary forces in France, who was one of the three Americans killed last Saturday when an American trench was raided by a German force, the street where Enright made his home in this city, hitherto called Promo street, will be named "Enright street" it was announced today. An ordinance changing the name of the street will be introduced at the next meeting of city council.

GRANVILLE

(Special to Advocate.)

Granville, Nov. 10.—Phi Gamma Delta will entertain tonight with their annual fall party, at their house on Broadway. The affair will be begun with a mask frolic and followed by dinner where they will unmask. At the close of the dinner the guests will be entertained by a group of entertainers who are to provide music and a pantomime-burlesque on camp life. The guests are to be the Misses Hamblen, Sutton, Pursell, Paar, Prior, Craytor, Olney, Boegel, Darrow, Gray, Gragan, Barker, Leslie, Carl, Rettig, McDermott, Eldridge, Lang, and Atwell. Miss McNeill and Professor Alden will chaperone the company.

Mrs. Helen Hunt, delightfully entertained the ladies of her mission circle Friday afternoon at her home in Park Drive in honor of Mrs. Thomas Moody, who is to leave Monday with her husband for the return to their mission field in Africa. Steamer letters and gifts were brought for Mrs. Moody, who has endeared herself to a large circle of friends during her stay in Granville.

Mrs. W. W. Wyckoff of New York with her little daughter, arrived last evening at the home of Dr. and Mrs. H. E. Hundley on Prospect Hill, where she will visit for a few days.

Prof. and Mrs. M. E. Stickney are entertaining today at their home on the Burg street hill with an old-fashioned apple-paring bee. Each guest was requested to bring a container in which to take home some of the apple butter which is made out of doors in the old style.

Dr. and Mrs. H. R. Hundley, who were called to Avalon, Pa., last week by the sudden death of Mrs. Hundley's father, J. W. Lewis, have returned home.

Mrs. Frank Ray and daughters motored to Columbus this morning, accompanied by Mrs. August Odebrecht.

The regular services will be held at the Presbyterian church, Sunday, conducted by the pastor, Rev. E. D. Barnes. At 12:15 a. m., Mr. Johnson of the Newark Y. M. C., who is now at Camp Sherman, will address the men on the Y. M. C. A. campaign. At 7 p. m., a union service in this church. The Y. M. C. A. campaign will be presented by Mayor Graham, the dry victory by John C. Graham. A recognition service for the young men in army service. Parents and relatives of soldiers are specially invited.

At the First Baptist church, Sunday, the pastor, Dr. Millard Brelsford, will preach at the morning service on "Gideon: a Man Whom God Used," and Mr. Johnson, secretary of the Y. M. C. A., Newark, will speak on the "Great Work of the Y. M. C. A. in Army Camps." At 7 p. m., a union praise and patriotic service in the Presbyterian church.

At the Methodist church, the pastor, Rev. F. Crawford, will preach on "A Faith From the Heart," and Frank Johnson, secretary of the Newark Y. M. C. A., will speak for a few minutes on the army Y. M. C. A. campaign.

Peruna Did Me More Good Than Two Years Under Doctor's Care

I am Able to Work Before I Could Not Help Myself.

Mrs. O. D. Robinson, No. 36 St. Felix St., Brooklyn, N. Y., writes: "I have taken Peruna and it did me more good than all my two years' treatment by special physicians. I can really say that I feel like another person. No more swollen feet and limbs. No more bloating of the abdomen. No more shortness of breath. No more stiff and sore joints. You have no idea what your treatment has done for me. It certainly has prolonged my life and made a new woman of me. O. such a blessing I have received through your kindness, Doctor, and the assistance of the medicine which you so kindly prescribed. I am able to work since I began your treatment, but before I was not able to help myself, much less work for any one else. All praise is due to your medical department and treatment."

Those who object to liquid medicines can now procure Peruna Tablets.

CORN HUSKING TITLE CLAIMED BY C. D. LAKE

County Commissioner Charles Lake was back on the job today after spending several days in the country husking corn. Commissioner Lake states that he still lays claim to being the champion corn husker of Newark township and can fairly make the case if whenever he becomes busy and takes a back seat for no man. His brother, commissioners, Jack Butt and J. E. McCracken claim that they will take a little vanity out of the champion and have challenged him for a ten hour contest to begin at 6 a. m. and end at 4. Wagers are now being made by court house officials on the outcome.

FLEMING EXPECTED
HERE SUNDAY; WILL WRESTLE THURSDAY

Middle weight wrestling Fleming, known to the wrestling fraternity as "Wild Cody" Fleming, will arrive in Newark Sunday night or early Monday, according to word received to word received here. He will go in training to put the finishing touches on his work in preparation for the bout Thursday night at the

"WILD CODY" FLEMING.

Auditorium theatre with Paul Bowser. This is the opening event of the season with Bowser. Fleming claims to have defeated all comers and asserts his willingness to meet any one. He was persistent in his effort to arrange this match with Bowser.

The local man is in good condition, despite the fact that he suffered with a severe illness early this fall. He has regained his former strength and his work the past week in his new gymnasium in North Fourth street indicates that he is physically fit for the trying ordeal on the mat. He will finish up with strenuous workouts the next few days. A splendid program of preliminaries has been arranged.

NEWARK SOLDIER IS CONVINCED BY GYPSY
WAR WILL SOON END

One of the Newark boys at Camp Sheridan, Ala., writes a friend of a queer coincidence that happened him a few days ago. In company with a comrade they engaged a lively auto in Montgomery to show them points of interest, taking two lady friends with them as companions.

They were out in the country several miles when something happened the machine and the chauffeur told them it would require about an hour to repair the same. The soldier boys and lady friends started on a little hike and walked about a mile and a half when they came across a gypsy camp and all had their fortunes told. The writer of the letter being last.

The soldier asked her numerous questions and finally said "When will the war end?" In latter November or December," replied the fortune teller. "How do you know?" inquired the soldier. "Just as I know that the driver of your auto is lying under his machine back in the road, dead," replied the gypsy.

They hurried back to where they had left their car, the young women almost hysterical and the soldiers doubtful. There was the chauffeur under the car and life was extinct, as foretold by the gypsy. An examination proved that he died from apoplexy.

The young Newark soldier vouches for the truth of the story and is now convinced, although never a believer, that some people are gifted with second sight.

THE DIFFERENCE.
A man went into a hotel and left his umbrella in the stand, with a card bearing this inscription to it: "This umbrella belongs to a man who can deal a blow of two hundred and fifty pounds weight." On returning to seek his property, he found in its place a card thus inscribed: "This card was left by a man who can run ten miles an hour. I shall not return."—The Christian Herald.

Irrespective of the high cost of living, even a rainstorm will cause umbrellas to go up.

WHERE GRAMMAR CAME FROM

Barbarous Macedonian, Who Made Himself Owner of All Egypt, Held Responsible for Invention.

The world reached its highest known stage of intelligence before grammar was even invented, much less studied. Ernest C. Moore writes in the Yale Review, I have had some curiosity to find out where and how so great a blight upon young life first came into being, and why it ever became a school study, and I find that the Greeks know it not; that their triumphant literature and their matchless oratory came to flower before grammar was dreamed of; that it was not in any sense one of the great arts which they wrought out and with which they armed the human race; that after Greece had declined, a barbarous Macedonian made himself owner of all Egypt, and in order to surround himself with the most spectacular form of ostentation of which his vain mind could conceive, he set to collecting not only all the rare and precious objects and books and manuscripts there were in the world, but he capped it all by making a collection of the living men of the world who had any reputation anywhere for knowing and thinking.

Taking them from their homes where they had some relation to the daily necessities of human beings, and had really been of some use, he shut them up for life in one of his palaces at Alexandria, which the folks were in the habit of calling "the hen coop of the muses;" and out of sheer desperation, since they could do nothing better to amuse themselves, they counted the words in the books which real men had written, and prepared tables of the forms and endings which the users of words employed. The lifeless dregs of books which their distilling left we now call grammar, and study instead of the moving, pulsing life of man, not even the Alexandrians sank so low as that.

TRUE LOVE OF SLOW GROWTH

But, Having Flowered, There Is No Test Which It Cannot Pass With Triumph.

True, lasting love is a little slower in starting than is false love. It is a little more dignified; a little more truthful and pure from the start. It is less disturbed by jealousy and trifling differences. It is more sturdy, though less flamboyant. It is less easily disturbed by frosts of misunderstanding and other disturbances.

So much for the beginning of love. The second test of love is time—separation—distance. The passing fascination shows itself in this test—it cannot pass it; it cannot last.

Only true love lasts, and that lasts because it reaches down to the bedrock of mutual esteem, and is of durable material; of mutual interests and sympathy it is compounded.

When love has passed its second test—time—it is usually able to pass its third test, which is altruism, or service.

At some time or other in life, love always asks: What will you give for love? And he that loveth truly answers: I will give my time, my personality, my position, my wealth—all will lag for love.

But he that does not love deeply, says: I would keep love, but I do not wish to give up too much for it. Foolish fellow. His love falls in its test. He loses his love because he will not pay the price of keeping it.

The final test of love is its influence. True love makes one better. The wrong sort of love is degrading, not uplifting. He does not love truly who is not a finer, stronger personality because of love.

Real love is the sun of one's life; it brightens, gladdens, uplifts and beautifies.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

Building Concrete Ships.

Concrete ships will displace the wooden-walled Norwegian barque, it is reported, the first Norwegian concrete ship having been launched at the Forsgrund Cement Works, in the presence of the prime minister, M. Kaundsen. The ship is built on an entirely new system, with the bottom upwards, in which extraordinary position the launching took place on a sort of underlying sledge, which glided out with the ship. When the water was reached the hull became detached from the sledge and gradually sank up to a certain point, then subsequently slowly righted itself. The ship, which is of 200 tons burden, was built in three weeks, but the next will only require about half that time as the original frame will be used for each subsequent ship of the same size. The casting of the ship, when the frame is completed will this time take only two days. It is intended to start the wholesale building of iron and concrete ships of 200, 500 and 1,000 tons. A 1,000-ton ship will be completed in six weeks.

Rights of Man.

The superstitious awe, the enslaving reverence, that formerly surrounded authority, is passing away in all countries, and leaving the possessor of property to the convulsion of accidents. When wealth and splendor, instead of fascinating the multitude, excite emotions of disgust; when, instead of drawing forth admiration, it is held as an insult upon wretchedness; when the ostentatious appearance it makes serves to call the right of it in question, the case of property becomes critical, and it is only in a system of justice that the possessor can contemplate security.—Thomas Paine.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative.

No gripping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth" now and then—a bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver and are constipated, you'll find quick, sure and only pleasant results from one or two little Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime. Thousands take one or two every night to keep right. Try them. 10c and 50c per box. All druggists.

When you feel discouraged, nervous, tired, worried or despondent it is a sure sign you need MOTT'S NERVE-PILLS. They renew the normal vigor and make life worth living. Be sure and ask for Mott's Nerve-Pills by druggists.

WAR TALKS

By UNCLE DAN

Number Five

Jimmie and a German Boy Clash—Must Do Three Things to Save Country.

It was a warm evening, so Uncle Dan went out to a lawn under the spreading branches of a great tree that suggested the far name of Oak Hill. Billie and Jimmie had been laying for him, so Uncle Dan was captured by the boys on the lawn.

"Say, Uncle Dan," he began. "We had a red-hot argument at school yesterday with Carl N. Dan. Carl said that German schools are miles ahead of our schools and that no one could come up to the educational level of the German. Well, Jimmie got hot over the collar and handed it back to a good and plenty."

Jimmie said if the education taught them to torpedo submarines, sink hospital ships, murder hundreds of women and children, make slaves of the Belgians, poison wells, destroy fruit trees and commit all sorts of crimes, then we did not want that kind of education here. What do you think about it, Uncle Dan? I told Jimmie you spent a lot of time in Europe and knew all about schools, so give us your opinion."

"Well," replied Uncle Dan, deliberately, "the German schools are very thorough; they furnish exceedingly valuable and practical instruction. The industrial training given there is probably the best to be found. The schools as a whole, however, in my opinion, appeal to the head only, and never to the heart. The aim and trend is to make the individual blindly submissive to the Prussian plan of world domination; they teach that it is the destiny of Germany to rule the world, and that to the glory and advance of Germany, in this plan, all things must give way; that the Kaiser as head of the state, can do no wrong if he carries forward the plan of world control. Some of the greatest teachers and preachers even defend and justify her heartless crushing of Belgians and the many other atrocious crimes she has committed in this war. Thank God, our American education reaches both the head and the heart. It is an education with a soul, and we must maintain the high ideals we have fixed. In a word, in Germany, the people are taught that they exist for the government, while here the government exists to serve the people."

"Just wait a minute," interrupted Billie. "Say that over again slowly, so I can write it down."

Uncle Dan, smilingly, complied. Billie exclaimed: "Now, we will hand that out for Carl to crack. Carl, you know," continued Billie, "has a very smart father who keeps him posted on the German arguments. Carl said our government was only an experiment anyway; that it would not last twenty years, and that it might burst up any old time. Jimmie asked him if Germany was so mighty good, why they did not go back there to live."

"Our government will go on forever, won't it, Uncle Dan?"

"Now," said Uncle Dan, "you are raising a big question, and one that has troubled me for years. Our government is still in the experimental stage; in fact, it is the greatest experiment ever undertaken, and if popular government is to be successful, a few things must be done, otherwise, to paraphrase the great Lincoln, the government of the people, by the people and for the people, will perish. It is my firm conviction," said Uncle Dan, in a very impressive manner, "that if our country is to go on, as we hope and pray, we must very quickly do at least three things, and I will name them in the order of importance as it appears to me:

"First, adopt compulsory universal military training of all young men physically fit before they reach the age of twenty years."

"Next, require that every foreigner who comes here to live must, within a reasonable time, say a year, declare his intention of becoming an American citizen and take the necessary steps to do so, thereby, from that moment, assuming all the obligations of citizenship of our country, and that means he must defend our flag upon equal terms with our native born, and if he is not willing to do this, he should be sent back from whence he came."

"That's the stuff," exclaimed Billie. "And, finally, enact such legislation as will make voting compulsory. Popular government is based upon the participation of all and the rule of the majority, and democracy cannot continue and be successful unless we live up to the spirit of the institution."

"The first step, however, is the passing of the Chamberlain bill for universal military training. If you will get the leading citizen, and especially the editor of your paper, to write personal letters to your congressmen and both senators, urging their support, it will help enormously."

"I see by the morning papers," said Uncle Dan, "that the Rotary clubs of the entire country, the liveliest, most efficient organization to be found, have unanimously decided to get back of the Chamberlain bill and give it loyal and enthusiastic support. They will work with the Universal Military Training league to accomplish this important piece of legislation, which will do more than anything else to make us a real nation with a common viewpoint, bring us back to sane living, and teach us the patriotism of service."

Uncle Dan lies the head that wears a crown; and yet we are told that two heads are better than one.

This Monster Does Exist

The dinosaur is a huge, unclassified aquatic monster. It resembles in many of its characteristics the extinct dinosaur, a huge reptile of the Mesozoic period, fossils of which have been discovered by paleontologists in the sandstone strata both of the African and American continents.

It lives in Lake Victoria Nyanza and its numerous tributaries, and there is no record of the monster having been seen in any other part of the world. Whether it is a descendant of one of the huge prehistoric saurians that has by a process of adaptation—living as it does in impenetrable regions far away from the encroachments of civilized man—continued with but slight modifications through prodigious ages to the present time, or whether it is an unclassified reptile or amphibian, it is equally impossible to say, as no specimen exists either of its bones or of its skin. That this monster does exist, however, there can be no particle of doubt, as the testimony of authoritative eyewitnesses cannot be reasonably discredited.—Wide World.

Do and Think

If you wish to be or do anything great in this world you will find every hour and every day an opportunity in some way. If nothing else the lull in routine is opportunity to study up for future reference and use.

If your mind is full of plans and ideas for carrying them out you can make almost any situation or circumstance work in to help you.

It is not so much how you go at a thing as to get at it.

Begin by doing something. Do and think at the same time. That think will help in the next do, and by always doing what you know how to do, first, you will find the next step easier.

It is not the talkers and the arguers who accomplish the most in this world.

Try some plan while the next one is talking about it, and you will be surprised at how easy it is to keep in the front row of the procession.—Minneapolis Tribune.

Historic Walking Canes

In the New York Historical society in New York city is a small but choice collection of historic walking canes.

The most valuable of the lot is a stout, serviceable cane used by Benjamin Franklin. It afterward came into possession of Dr. John W. Francis, the eminent physician of three-quarters of a century ago.

Next in interest is one said to have been used by Henry Clay and Abraham Lincoln. There are also two canes made from timber of Commodore Oliver Hazard Perry's flagship at the battle of Lake Erie.

Of a more curious nature is a thick cane made from the tusk of a walrus presented by Howland Pell and a quaintly carved cane of hardwood made by a Mandan Indian.—New York Times.

Barometer Paper

Barometer paper, that changes its color according as the weather is wet or dry, may be made under several formulas, according to the color you want. One formula is: Cobalt chloride, one part; gelatin, ten parts; water, 100 parts. In this the normal color is pink. This color changes to violet in medium humid weather and to blue in wet weather. Another formula that makes yellow in dry weather calls for cupric chloride, one part; gelatin, ten parts; water, 100 parts. Still another formula is cobalt chloride, one part; gelatin, twenty parts; nickel oxide, seventy-five parts; water, 200 parts. This gives a green in dry weather. Immerse paper or muslin in either solution.—Brooklyn Eagle.

Too Liberal

A London taxi driver had an elderly lady as his fare the other day. On arriving at her home she gave him the legal fare—one shilling—along with a food economy pamphlet headed "How to Live on Sixpence a Day."

"Excuse me, miss," said he, handing back the pamphlet. "I couldn't think of taking this from you, because in the absence of the information it contains you might be tempted to live beyond your income."

MUSTEROLE—QUICK RELIEF! NO BLISTER!

It Soothes and Relieves Like a Mustard Plaster Without the Burn or Sting

Musterole is a clean, white ointment made with the oil of mustard. It does all the work of the old-fashioned mustard plaster—does it better and does not blister. You do not have to bother with a cloth. You simply rub it on—and usually the pain is gone!

Many doctors and nurses use Musterole and recommend it to their patients. They will gladly tell you what relief it gives from sore throat, bronchitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frost-bitten feet, colds of the chest (it often prevents pneumonia).

FOR ITCHING TORTURE

Use Penetrating, Antiseptic Zemo

There is one remedy that seldom fails to stop itching torture and relieve skin irritation and that makes the skin soft, clear and healthy.

Any drugstore can supply you with Zemo, which generally overcomes all skin diseases. Acne, eczema, itch, pimples, rashes, blackheads, in most cases give way to Zemo. Frequently, minor blemishes disappear overnight. Itching usually stops instantly. Zemo is a safe, antiseptic liquid, clean, easy to use and dependable. It costs only 35c; an extra large bottle, $1.00. It will not stain, is not greasy or sticky and is positively safe for tender, sensitive skins.

Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and educator of your school, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative.

No gripping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth" now and then a bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver—and are constipated, you'll find quick, sure and only pleasant results from one or two little Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime.

Thousands take one or two every night just to keep right. Try them. 10c and 50c per box. All druggists.

WAR TALKS

By UNCLE DAN

Number Five

Jimmie and a German Boy Clash—Must Do Three Things to Save Country.

It was a warm evening, so Uncle Dan went out to a lawn seat under the spreading branches of the great tree that suggested the farm's name of Oak Hill. Billie and Jimmie had been laying for him, so Uncle Dan was captured by the boys on short order.

"Say, Uncle Dan," Billie began. "We had a red-hot argument at school yesterday with Carl Newman. Carl said that German schools were miles ahead of our schools and that no one could come up to the educated German. Well, Jimmie got hot under the collar and handed it back to him good and plenty. Jimmie said if their education taught them to torpedo Lusitanias, sink hospital ships, murder hundreds of women and children, make slaves of the Belgians, poison wells, destroy fruit trees and commit all sorts of crimes, then we did not want that kind of education here. What do you think about it, Uncle Dan? I told Jimmie you spent a lot of time in Europe and knew all about schools, so give us your opinion."

"Well," replied Uncle Dan, deliberately, "the German schools are very thorough; they furnish exceedingly valuable and practical instruction. The industrial training given there is probably the best to be found. The schools as a whole, however, in my opinion, appeal to the head only, and never to the heart. The aim and trend is to make the individual blindly submissive to the Prussian plan of world domination; they teach that it is the destiny of Germany to rule the world, and that to the glory and advance of Germany, in this plan, all things must give way; that the kaiser as head of the state, can do no wrong if he carries forward the plan of world control. Some of the greatest teachers and preachers even defend and justify her heartless crushing of Belgians and the many other atrocious crimes she has committed in this war. Thank God, our American education reaches both the head and the heart. It is an education with a soul, and we must maintain the high ideals we have fixed. In a word, in Germany, the people are taught that they exist for the government, while here the government exists to serve the people."

Uncle Dan, smilingly, complied.

Billie exclaimed: "Now, we will hand that out for Carl to crack. Carl, you know," continued Billie, "has a very smart father who keeps him posted on the German arguments. Carl said our government was only an experiment anyway; that it would not last twenty years, and that it might burst up any old time. Jimmie asked him if Germany was so mighty good, why they did not go back there to live."

"Our government will go on forever, won't it, Uncle Dan?"

"Now," said Uncle Dan, "you are raising a big question, and one that has troubled me for years. Our government is still in the experimental stage; in fact, it is the greatest experiment ever undertaken, and if popular government is to be successful, a few things must be done, otherwise, to paraphrase the great Lincoln, the government of the people, by the people and for the people, will perish. It is my firm conviction," said Uncle Dan, in a very impressive manner, "that if our country is to go on, as we hope and pray, we must very quickly do at least three things, and I will name them in the order of importance as it appears to me:

"First, adopt compulsory universal military training of all young men physically fit before they reach the age of twenty years."

"Next, require that every foreigner who comes here to live must, within a reasonable time, say a year, declare his intention of becoming an American citizen and take the necessary steps to do so, thereby, from that moment, assuming all the obligations of citizenship of our country, and that means he must defend our flag upon equal terms with our native born, and if he is not willing to do this, he should be sent back from whence he came."

"That's the stuff," exclaimed Billie. "And, finally, enact such legislation as will make voting compulsory. Popular government is based upon the participation of all and the rule of the majority, and democracy cannot continue and be successful unless we live up to the spirit of the institution."

"The first step, however, is the passing of the Chamberlain bill for universal military training. If you will get the leading citizen, and especially the editor of your paper, to write personal letters to your congressman and both senators, urging their support, it will help enormously."

"I see by the morning papers," said Uncle Dan, "that the Rotary clubs of the entire country, the largest, most efficient organization to be found, have unanimously decided to get back of the Chamberlain bill and give it loyal and enthusiastic support. They will work with the Universal Military Training league to accomplish this important piece of legislation, which will do more than anything else to make us a real nation with a common viewpoint, bring us back to sane living, and teach us the patriotism of service."

Uncle Dan lies the head that wears a crown; and yet we are told that two heads are better than one.

This Monster Does Exist.

The dugonek is a huge, unclassified aquatic monster. It resembles in many of its characteristics the extinct dinosaur, a huge reptile of the Mesozoic period, fossils of which have been discovered by paleontologists in the sandstone strata both of the African and American continents.

It lives in Lake Victoria Nyanza and its numerous tributaries, and there is no record of the monster having been seen in any other part of the world. Whether it is a descendant of one of the huge prehistoric saurians that has by a process of adaptation—living as it does in impenetrable regions far away from the encroachments of civilized man—continued with but slight modifications through prodigious ages to the present time, or whether it is an unclassified reptile or amphibian, it is equally impossible to say, as no specimen exists either of its bones or of its skin. That this monster does exist, however, there can be no particle of doubt, as the testimony of authoritative eyewitnesses cannot be reasonably discredited.—Wide World.

Do and Think. If you wish to be or do anything great in this world you will find every hour and every day an opportunity in some way. If nothing else the dull routine is opportunity to study up for future reference and use.

If your mind is full of plans and ideas for carrying them out you can make almost any situation or circumstance work in to help you.

It is not so much how you go at a thing as to get at it.

Begin by doing something. Do and think at the same time. That think will help in the next do, and by always doing what you know how to do, first, you will find the next step easier.

It is not the talkers and the arguers who accomplish the most in this world.

Try some plan while the next one is talking about it, and you will be surprised at how easy it is to keep in the front row of the procession.—Minneapolis Tribune.

Historic Walking Canes.

In the New York Historical society in New York City is a small but choice collection of historic walking canes.

The most valuable of the lot is a stout, serviceable cane used by Benjamin Franklin. It afterward came into possession of Dr. John W. Francis, the eminent physician of three-quarters of a century ago.

Next in interest is one said to have been used by Henry Clay and Abraham Lincoln. There are also two canes made from timber of Commodore Oliver Hazard Perry's flagship at the battle of Lake Erie.

Of a more curious nature is a thick cane made from the tusk of a walrus presented by Howland Pell and a quaintly carved cane of hardwood made by a Mandan Indian.—New York Times.

Barometer Paper.

Barometer paper, that changes its color according as the weather is wet or dry, may be made under several formulas, according to the color you want. One formula is: Cobalt chloride, one part; gelatin, ten parts; water, 100 parts. In this the normal color is pink. This color changes to violet in medium humid weather and to blue in wet weather. Another formula that makes yellow in dry weather calls for cupric chloride, one part; gelatin, ten parts; water, 100 parts. Still another formula is cobalt chloride, one part; gelatin, twenty parts; nickel oxide, seventy-five parts; water, 200 parts. This gives a green in dry weather. Immense paper or muslin in either solution.—Brooklyn Eagle.

be sufficient to form the nucleus for a single production.
This photograph, showing a capacity crowd yesterday and it's still you want, we would say see one of the last showings today.
The first of the spectacular episodes is the burning of a big hotel by the Paris Apaches to conceal a murder. The second is a race between two automobiles through the streets at break-neck speed, concluding with one of the machines leaping 50 feet into a river through an opening in the bridge. The third is a three-cornered fight in the air between aeroplanes racing across the English Channel.

North of Fifty-Three
"Roaring Bull" Wagstaff's troubles began when he finds his partner murdered in the snow.
The first ray of sunlight after this comes with the arrival of Hazel West in the little village of Cariboo. He owns a horse bill—Mr. Farnum—is living his lonely life.
Hazel comes to the great Northwest as a school teacher. Before her journey she was a stenographer in the East, but the insulting advances of her employer and the scandal which he has caused her to leave home and friends.
Her story follows her Bill, with the great hit and big soul which make him the favorite of his company. Hazel believes the rumors he hears about the beautiful young school teacher. He loves her and asks her to marry him.
Hazel refuses to tolerate him and asks him to send her back to Cariboo Meadows from which she wanders when the first stories of her life in the East were told to the western village. This feature is set tomorrow together with Charlie Chaplin who is seen in "The Adventurer."

The Adventurer
Charlie Chaplin's latest Mutual comedy "The Adventurer" is shown tomorrow at the Auditorium together with the Wm. Fox feature "North of Fifty-Three" in which Farnum is starred in "The Adventurer." The picture opens with a strikingly original bit of comicality in which the inevitable funmaker, who is being sought high and low by armed guards of a penitentiary from which he is supposed to have escaped, emerges like a striped cat from the hole behind him into which the astonished guard tumbles backward. While Charles makes good his escape for the time being.
The program tomorrow is an expensive one, but it is put together to please Auditorium picture fans and expense is counted out when the patrons amusement is in mind. The orchestra, under the leadership of C. Ernest Cochran, will render a select program that is sure to be in keeping with the picture program that is offered.

The Narrow Trail
The Auditorium announces for three days beginning Monday, the engagement of William S. Hart, popular star who is credited with bringing back to popularity the Western drama, who is seen in his first Ince-Alhambra picture "The Narrow Trail." In this big Western play Hart comes under the direction of Thomas H. Ince and Artcraft, a combination which promises much for the productions that are to come to Newark picture fans and only shown at Mgr. Fenberg's playhouse "The Narrow Trail" was written by Hart himself, and therefore should be well adapted to this good "bad man" characteristic acting. Another notable feature is the fact that Sylvia Brenner, a beautiful Australian actress is now Hart's leading. The story is laid mostly in the picturesque Western plains but takes Hart for a time to the Barbary Coast, San Francisco. None should miss this pulsating story of "Big Bill" himself, also "Fritz" his famous horse. For Maundy the Hearst-Pathe News is an added feature.

Auditorium Notes.
Norma Talmadge no doubt will be greeted by crowds whose when seen here next week in "Poppy" a Selznick

To the Citizens of Newark:

I desire to express my sincere thanks to all my personal friends and the voters of the City for their most loyal support at the election on last Tuesday. I regret that it is a physical impossibility to see each one personally but nevertheless I appreciate most thoroughly the expression of confidence in me as evidenced by the magnificent vote I received. You may rest assured that I shall do everything in my power to be true to the trust imposed in me. Yours

sincerely, A. NELSON DODD.

STOPS ANY COLD IN A FEW HOURS

"Pape's Cold Compound" opens clogged nose and head and ends gripe.

Relief comes instantly.
A dose taken every two hours-until three doses are taken will end gripe misery and break up a severe cold either in the head, chest, body or limbs.

It promptly opens clogged-up nostrils and air passages in the head, stops nasty discharge or nose running, relieves sick headache, dullness, feverishness, sore throat, sneezing, soreness and stiffness.

Don't stay stuffed up! Quit blowing and snuffling! Ease your throat! Nothing else in the world gives such prompt relief as "Pape's Cold Compound," which costs only a few cents at any drug store. It acts without assistance, tastes nice, causes no inconvenience. Be sure you get the genuine. (Advt.)

RELAPSE FOLLOWS TYPHOID ATTACK; MISS BUTLER DIES

Miss Leatha Butler of Utica, died at the Newark Sanitarium, Friday evening. About a week ago, Miss Butler, with her sister, was removed to their home in Utica, convalescing from a serious attack of typhoid fever, from which their mother died about two months ago. An older sister had also had the fever shortly before the mother became ill and was a patient at the City hospital.
Upon their return home, failure to take the proper care, exaggerated a weakness brought on by the fever, and Miss Leatha was again taken seriously ill and brought back to the Sanitarium. She is survived by her father, a brother, and two sisters.
The body was taken to Utica in the Bradley ambulance, Friday night.

Testing Aero Engines.

In testing an aeroplane engine of 200 horsepower a Detroit company moun-ed it upon a heavy motor truck, and the aerial propeller sent the truck flying along a boulevard at the rate of over forty miles an hour, says the Popular Mechanics Magazine. This was a speed that the truck could not begin to develop under its own motor power,
and the method furnished a better practical test of the twelve cylinder aeroplane engine than was possible in the testing laboratory or in any stationary trial on blocks. As an additional test the rear wheels of the two ton truck were locked, so that they could not revolve, and in this condition it was driven across a ball park by the aeroplane engine and propeller through heavy drifts of snow and over ice.
The motor weighs 800 pounds and develops power sufficient to drive a twelve passenger aeroplane at forty miles an hour.

His Logic.

"We could get along very well without lawyers," proclaimed the radical.
"I consider lawyers nothing but parasites on the body politic."

The attorney sneered. "Your theory on this subject is like your theories on all other subjects," he said. "You pre-suppose a model state of society. In a model state we should need no lawyers,
but at present society is imperfect.
Therefore, lawyers are a necessity."

"I expected you to say that," said the radical. "Will you stick to it that a lawyer is a necessity and accept all the consequences of that statement?"

"Yes."

"Out of your own mouth I condemn
you. Necessity knows no law!"—
Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Animal Curiosity.

A cow will approach a new object fascinated, but with timorous suspicion, and a horse is even more timid, gazing at a distance for awhile, ready to flee in a moment. The monkey will smash at everything that is new and deliberately examine it till, finding that he cannot eat it or mock mankind with it, he will drop it and let it pass from his shallow memory. There is a pathos in the sleeplessness of animal curiosity, it is so easily satisfied. The thought, if thought it be, usually ends with the first flash of surprise and the impression of safety.

A Test Required.

"Johnny, it was very wrong for you and the boy next door to fight."

"We couldn't help it, father."

"Could you not have settled your differences by a peaceful discussion of the matter, calling in the assistance of unprejudiced opinion, if need be?"

"No, father. He was sure he could whip me and I was sure I could whip him, and there was only one way to find out."—Washington Star.

Prepared for the Worst.

An old farmer lay dying. The minister was sent for and prayed at his bedside. Then, at the last minute, the sick man rallied.

"Ah, my dear," he said to his better half, "it may be I'll be spared to you yet."

"The old wife frowned and said grimly:—

"No, no, George. You're prepared and I'm resigned. Die now."—London Opinion.

Taking No Chances.

"Y" FUND WORKERS READY FOR EFFORT; COUNTY ORGANIZED

At a meeting of the division chairman and team captains in the Chamber of Commerce rooms last evening reports indicating practical completion of the Y. M. C. A. war fund organization were received and a splendid spirit of enthusiastic co-operation was manifest.

With one or two exceptions each captain reported his team signed up and ready for action.

The manager reported that the clerical work of preparation was well up and that when the time arrived for the opening game there will be nothing left undone which is essential to the success of the campaign.

Messrs. Jones and Mitchell, speaking for the executive committee outside Newark, stated that their plans were well in hand and that the Newark forces must look to their laurels as there is considerable likelihood of the county outside of Newark carrying off the honor of raising the larger part of Licking county's contribution to this work as was the case in the Red Cross campaign.

Mr. Wright, for the executive committee, announced that a considerable sum had already been pledged with that committee with more to follow; that, in fact, the executive committee expects to raise 20 per cent of the total apportionment for the county.

It is earnestly desired that each member of the organization plan to be present at the Monday evening supper, as the absence of anyone, whether captain, high private, or new recruit will impose a handicap on the entire force.

Chairman Jones requests that those who are interested in the success of this work offer the services of their machines to convey speakers to the church outside Newark,
Sunday morning.

Manager C. E. Hewitt of the Kresge store, states that there is a decided rivalry among the members of his sales force as to who shall have the largest amount of personal sales to apply on the Kresge contribution next Tuesday, which is to be 50 per cent of the gross sales of the store for that day.

Mr. Hewitt says that his clerks are asking their friends to do their shopping that day in order to swell the sum total of results.

This generous lead of the Kresge store, which, by the way, was arranged largely through the instru-mentality of Col. W. C. Wells, will doubtless be followed by other of the progressive business men of the town as the campaign comes to a close.

GRANVILLE SUICIDE IS

STILL UNIDENTIFIED

The mystery of the identity of the stranger who suicided in Granville Thursday afternoon is still unsolved.
Hundreds have viewed the corpse but none could give a clue. It looks now as if the man had carefully worked out the details and then destroyed every trace of anything that might lead to his identity. Coroner
W. L. Jackson of this city is endeavoring to trace where the watch which the man carried, was purchased, by having the factory trace it through the factory number. The only other possible clue is the name
"George Lanning," tailor mark in one of the pockets of the dead man's overcoat. The body will be held until Monday or Tuesday and then interred in the Granville cemetery.

JOHNSON AND HIS

WIFE TRIED BEFORE

MAYOR SATURDAY

The troubles of Fountain Johnson and his wife were aired in police court today when Mayor R. C. Big-bee held Mrs. Johnson to the grand jury in the sum of $300, having been charged by the grand jury with cutting with intent to kill. Samuel Shackelford went the woman's bail.

Mrs. Johnson then had her husband arrested, charging him with assault with intent to kill. Mayor Big-bee heard the evidence and dismissed
the case. Yesterday afternoon Cato Chambers was sentenced to pay a fine of $200 and six months in jail for interfering with the Johnson domestic affairs, and it was suspended providing he leave town. He left.

Worry is Imagination.

We worry because we are able through a power called self consciousness to place ourselves through our minds for the time being either back somewhere in the past without carrying our physical bodies with us, for if we could take our bodies with us we would be in the present again, and then worry is impossible; or, we use our imagination and project the future entirely apart from our bodies, for we cannot project our bodies into the future, and if we could we would again be in the present, says the "Book of Wonders." We worry over going to have an operation performed, which may or may not be dangerous, but quite necessary. We may still think we worry when the operation begins, but as soon as that occurs the time becomes the present, and though we may fear, we cannot worry in the present.

Quits Contented.

"He told her if she consented to an engagement she must be prepared to make all kinds of sacrifices and to be treated with the greatest neglect and even face cruelty and desertion."

"Was the woman in her senses to agree to such an outrageous proposition?"

"Oh, yes, for the engagement was to play the wronged and deserted wife in a melodramatic picture play."—

PRACTICAL HEALTH HINT.

Kidney Diseases and Diet.

Nearly all diseases of the kidneys are due to salt. If you are suffering with or from your kidneys the first thing to do is to smash all your medicine bottles, cut out salt and sugar from your meals and go on the fruit-cereal diet. Steamed asparagus is the best thing in the world for your kidneys and bladder. Parsley is good for victims of kidney diseases, so also is water cross in the form of salad—but no salt.

One should not eat too freely of parsley. Parsley will aid the eyeballs by restoring the kidneys to their proper functions, but overdoses of parsley damage the vision. Pears are the very best of fruit for victims of kidney disease. But no matter the nature or the name of your kidney disease, you can get over it by following the instructions—

Lord Brougham's Dream.

Lord Brougham was one of the most stubborn believers in the "common sense" explanation of ghostly appearances as dreams. At Edinburgh university he and an intimate friend drew up an agreement written with their blood that whichever of them died first should appear to the survivor. Years passed; the friend was in India, and Brougham had almost forgotten his existence. Arriving late one night at an inn in Sweden, Brougham had a hot bath and was going to get out of it when he looked toward the chair on which he had left his clothes and saw his friend sitting on it. Brougham seems then to have fainted. On getting home he received a letter announcing that the other had died in India at the very time. Yet this incident, which most people would put down to telepathy at least, was dismissed by Brougham as a mere dream and pure coincidence.

Encouraging to Dullards.

Like Newton, Herbert Spencer in his schoolboy days showed no aptitude for study. Hugh Elliot, his biographer, says of him that "he was very backward as a boy in the ordinary subject of children's lessons."

Morally he was extremely disobedient and contemptuous of authority. At thirteen he "found the discipline of his school more severe than he cared about, and he ran away home to Derby again, walking forty-eight miles the first day." Yet as a man, "without money, without special education, without health," says his biographer, "he produced eighteen large volumes of philosophy and science of many diverse kinds, published a variety of mechanical inventions, and on endless other subjects, great and small, he set forth a profusion of new and original ideas."

Y. M. C. A. Notes

Kresge's store is going to donate one-half of its gross receipts Tuesday to the War Work of the Y. M. C. A. If you are contemplating purchases at this store make them on this date. The Y. M. C. A. lunch counter opened last week and has been doing well. An effort is being made for providing a variety of whole some food at a very reasonable price. This lunch counter is run principally as a social feature, to provide a plant for Bible class suppers and also accommodate the appetites of gym users and high school students.

The association has received word from the signal corps headquarters that drafted men who can qualify as telegraphers will be considered for the signal corps when called out. The telegraph school offers free instruction to drafted men still in town and it is hoped that a number will avail themselves of this opportunity to get into an attractive branch of army service.

Thursday of this week a large party of men on the war work campaign committee visited Chillicothe, in an effort to get first-hand information regarding the work of the Y. M. C. A. at the cantonment. They are in the position to give some valuable information regarding the work which Licking county people are asked to subscribe $30,000 toward.

A. S. Stephan, C. F. Lender and Paul Hazlett attended a conference in Columbus, Thursday night, the object of which was to provide a systematic plan by which high school boys and eighth grade school boys may help raise the thirty-five million dollars needed by the Y. M. C. A. for its war work among soldiers.

Hallowe'en festivities held the center of the stage during Hallowe'en week. The junior party was attended by 150 boys and girls and adults; 15 couples made up the party at the high school celebration. Many attractive costumes were worn on both occasions. Stunts and acts of all kinds suitable to Hallowe'en were provided. The use of the basketball hall at Church and Fourth streets has been secured for the winter. The senior team is going into training early; much new material will have to be worked into shape as so many of our players have left Newark.

The men's Bible class has set a date for an opening supper, Monday, Nov. 19. This class is going to study the social phase of Christianity. Attendance at the class is not limited to members of the Y. M. C. A.

25 Years Ago

(From Advocate, Nov. 10, 1892.)
Mrs. Euphemia Chesnut, wife of Thos. J. Chesnut died last night at her late residence in Cherry Valley. Messrs. John Cline and Frank Howard, two well known B. & O. engineers, have returned today from Arkansas where they have been on a hunting trip.
The Masons held an election of officers last evening immediately after which they were duly installed by S. Stacker Williams, P. G. M. assisted by P. G. M. Cunningham.
Mrs. Braxton B. White entertained at tea last evening in honor of her friend Mrs. S. H. Boyce, formerly Miss Mayme Gardner, of Wataga, Ill.

15 YEARS AGO TODAY.
(From Advocate, Nov. 10, 1902.)
The councilmanic committee on the City Hospital have only examined about one-half of the forty sites offered for their new building. The committee consists of Messrs. Dan L. Jones, W. H. Davis and W. E. Miller.
Mr. and Mrs. Baldwin spent Sunday in Cincinnati with their daughter Miss Mary, who is attending the college of music.
Harry P. Scott leaves tonight for New York City and next Saturday sails for Porto Rico, principally to regain his health.

Lodges

Attention again is called to the rule which has been in force for several years that all notices for the church and lodge columns must be in this office, not later than 3 p. m. Friday, for publication in Saturday's paper.

RED MEN.
Minnewa Tribe No. 52 met this week with a good attendance. Much business was attended to and seven brothers on the sick list were reported as improving. The winter campaign for members has started and it looks as though the tribe would make a good gain in membership by January 1. Seventeen of the tribe have enlisted, or have been drafted in the service. The trustees purchased $2,500 worth of Liberty bonds last week.

The carpenters have finished the new floor and with the new decorations, the hall will present a very neat appearance. The committee appointed to draft new by-laws made its report, and it was decided not to change the sick benefits, funeral fund or nurse hire. The degree captain wants the team on hand every Friday night. A social committee will be appointed next meeting to take care of dances, entertainments, smokers, etc., that have been arranged for the coming winter.

K. O. P.
Roland Lodge.
The attendance this week was a little better than the previous week, five officers out of ten being present, a gain of one. If the officers fail to do their duty it is hard to condemn the rank and file for non-attendance. One application for membership was received and turned over to the proper committee. The Page rank is announced for next Tuesday evening, and it is hoped the boys will turn out in goodly numbers. Brother J. W. Stroup left Newark last Saturday evening. His departure leaves a place hard to fill, especially in the proposed addition to the page rank. Some one to take his place probably will be chosen at the next meeting.

Newark Lodge.
The regular weekly meeting of Newark Lodge, No. 13, K. of P., was held Thursday evening with a very good attendance. Business was light and consumed very little time. The page rank was conferred on a class of candidates. Next Thursday evening the esquire rank will be conferred on a class of five pages and the officers request that there be a large attendance.

I. O. O. F.
Newark Lodge.
Last Monday evening Newark lodge held a very interesting session. There was a good attendance and the initiatory degree team got down to business. All members of the team are requested to be present next Monday to prepare to confer the degree very soon. There is important business before the lodge that every member should take part in.

Canton Olive.
Canton Olive No. 90 was again entertained by the ladies auxiliary at their last regular meeting and a most enjoyable evening was spent. The Canton has been having a meeting every week getting ready to confer the decoration of civility on Nov. 28. This degree is similar to the one which was conferred at Mountbuilders park during the grand encampment here last July.

POCAHONTAS.
Degree of Pocahontas met Thursday night with a good attendance. A splendid report from the District school was read. It was decided to hold the regular card party every two weeks. The first will be held Thursday. A fine lunch was served.

MODERN WOODMEN.
Cedar Camp No. 4727, Modern Woodmen of America, met Wednesday night. Considerable business was transacted. One application was received and two candidates were adopted members of the camp. The officers and team are practicing regularly for the trip to Zanesville, Nov. 20 to confer the adoption ceremony on a district class. To get a special car, there must be 50 persons go. The fare for round trip is now $1.93 on account of the war tax and all members who desire to go, must leave their fare with the clerk who will issue them a ticket. If no special car is secured, the party will leave on the regular car at 6:45. Member J. A. Richardson, living on Union street, was reported as being very ill. Member Headley on South Sixth street was reported much improved. At the next regular meeting the work will be conferred. Election night the first regular meeting in December.

EAGLES.
Regular meeting of Licking Aerie No. 337, F. O. E. was held last Tuesday evening, with all officers present.

Two applications for membership were read and investigating committees appointed. Arrangements are under way to hold an open meeting, at which past state president, Brother Russel Knepper and one of the national officers or a deputy grand president will be the speaker.

A state-wide contest is on for new members. The state officers have purchased a number of silver cups which will be presented as prizes to lodges securing the largest percentage of new members. There is no reason why Licking Aerie should not secure one of these prizes.

The lodge has a $20,000 home free of debt, and sufficient money in the bank that the trustees have been instructed to investigate any business block offered for sale, and if in their judgment it looks like a good investment, to take an option on same and report to the Aerie.

WAUSEON SOLDIER DIES.
(Associated Press Telegram)
Camp Sherman, Chillicothe, Ohio, Nov. 10.—Ignatius Camp, of company A, 329th infantry, whose home is in Wauseon, Ohio, died here Thursday of cerebral spinal meningitis. Camp's company has been quarantined.
